

Considering most of the issues in this contry are based on the government looking good. Tell me how weakening the "do not call" list makes the government look good. You freeked out over a mishap at the superbowl last year, when a larger % of you may have been involved in worse ... just never caught. Why not weaken the do not call list personally for you ... don't make a decision that will affect people who don't want the list weakened. Oh, wait a minute ... maybe there's more $ in it ... like knowing that viox and celebrex kill, orgs like your's will ban an organic remedy to make a synthetic diretive. Yeah you might say i went on a small tangent, but all of these issues bleed into each other. In essence the government is for the people not people for the government. don't lock us out, count our votes "for real" and leave this issue alone.
